ougars Thump Aggies, 93-76

By Mark Murphy

NN ROWE, forgotten man igham Young University's tball team, completely re- ed himself after last week's ess showing in leading the ful Cougars to a decisive trouncing of Utah State's ated Farmers Friday night a capacity crowd of 3.

t a week previous to Friday's encounter, Rowe drew a complete blank at Logan as the league leading Cats dropped a 76-75 heart stopper to the tough Aggies. With a couple of hustling sophomores vying for his starting berth it was now or never for the lithe Cougar forward, and he played with a vengence.

ROWE hit for a vital 20 points, led the Brighams in rebounding and efficiently stifled the Farmer's biggest scoring threat, Ted Smith. In fact, Smith was completely shut out in the first half and finally ended up with a 12 point total, far below his near 20-per game average.

Prolific point production by both teams eclipsed by one point the cumulative scoring record for George Albert Smith Fieldhouse. The total of 169 markers garnered broke the previous mark of 168 held jointly by BYU and Montana since 1956.

WITH WHISTLES blowing every second breath, another fieldhouse marker was shattered into oblivion. Both quintets broke the high mark for total free throws scored. The Wattsmen hit for 39 and the Ags totaled 32. Utah and BYU each made 30 in 1955 for the previous record.

With records going down the drain and the Cat dribble palace jumping with roars of approval, the Cougars completely dominated play after the first eight minutes.

AFTER the lead had changed hands five times in the early going, Roy Thacker hit a jump shot from the key to put the winners ahead to stay. Harry Anderson, Tom Steinke and John Benson hit three fast ones to jump the Cats ahead 20-12. From then on the lead fluctuated around the 10 point mark until later in the game when the Cougars broke the festivities wide open.

Two nifty hook shots by center Joe Lockyer of the Aggies, leading scorer for the evening with 23, pulled the visit-ear Eric, . . . You should that I no longer live in gary. I had to flee, otherwise the Russians would have deported me to Siberia.

"I have good friends in Switzerland. Through thousands of dangers to my life did I cross the border, naturally in the night, yet I give God praise for my safety.

1400 Tickets Sold To Scheherazade; Friday's All Gone

Ticket sales for "Scheherazade" this year's Junior Prom, passed the 1400 mark last week with Friday night's supply completely sold out.

The 1400 sales up to now represent a 300 ticket increase over last year's total ticket sales.

Roger Victor, prom chairman, reported that while total number of tickets sold this year has passed last year's total, the dance floor should not be crowded. Refreshments will be served to 160 couples at any time during the dance.

Refreshments will be served on the main gymnasium floor of the fieldhouse.

Besides the new system of refreshments and intermission, attendants will be on hand to park cars. Cars will be parked in numbered stalls, eliminating the need of searching for parking space.

2 Sophs, Bishop Win Election; Named Typical BYU Biblerites

Two Brigham Young University sophomores and a professor-bishop were elected to reign at last Friday's Bibler Bounce.

Duane Hiatt, Payson, and Karen Jensen, Arcadia, Calif., were selected by BYU students in last Thursday's assembly to fill the honorary positions of Worthal and Louise Lush at the Daily Universe-sponsored Bounce.

Dr. Albert Swensen, BY 13th Ward bishop and associate professor of chemistry, was selected as the typical BYU representative of all that's not too kindly in Professor Snarf.

In scrolls, presented by Universe Editor Ralph Barney at the dance, the selected characters were honored as "shoddy, non-scholastic, disreputable lout" (Worthal), "most unscholarly, least uninteresting type of campus womanhood (Louise)" and a combination of the "sadistic tendencies of the BYU faculty and . . . own abominable habits."

A total of 24 candidates were entered in the Bibler character race.

Worthal Hiatt provided added entertainment with vocal music.

The dance, an annual event, was held in four halls—Smith Fieldhouse, Smith Ballroom, Social Hall and Smith Family Living Center Ballroom.

It was the first time a student-body dance had been held in the new Family Living Center.

Youth Needs To Know . . .

AF Meet To Feature Ferenc Nagy

DR. FERENC Nagy, first elected president of Hungary, will be the featured speaker at the second Air Power Symposium in Salt Lake City, Feb. 1 and 2.

"Youth Needs to Know" is the theme of the symposium, sponsored by the Utah Wing of the Air Force Association, organized to bring together all air-minded groups in the state.

According to Col. Barnett S. Allen, professor of Air Science at Brigham Young University, the theme was chosen because of the present shortage of scientists and apparent lack of sufficient interest in exact sciences on the part of American youth.

OTHER speakers at the two-day conference will be Dr. Dean Wooldridge, one of the world's outstanding scientists in the missile field; Brigadier General Robert Scott, author of "God Is My Co-Pilot," and Dr. Ronald Spaulding of New York University.

Program for the two days will include a luncheon, jet age conference and air fratemnity rally on Friday.

Saturday's program includes an air power education symposium, air power awards luncheon, youth forum, air power banquet and Air Force Golden Anniversary Ball. Everything but the ball will be at the Hotel Utah in Salt Lake City.

DR. NAGY, who will address the Saturday banquet, was the last democratic Prime Minister of Hungary. He was elected by the Hungarian parliament in 1939. He fell into the hands of the Gestapo, when the Germans struck at Hungary. He escaped after six months in prison and remained underground until the war ended.

By that time Hungary was under complete Soviet occupation. At the end of 1945 the last free general election was held in Hungary and Nagy was voted prime minister. Russian leaders decided he "had to go" and seized his five-year-old son, who had been left in Hungary, while his parents were vacationing in Switzerland—and held him for ransom—the ransom being Nagy's resignation.

For the last nine years Nagy and his family have been living in the United States where he has written numerous magazine articles and a book entitled "Struggle Behind the Iron Curtain," as well as lecturing and making many television appearances.

Tickets for the symposium ball and further information regarding the program are available in the AFROTC offices in the basement of the McDonald Student Health Center.

Soph Class Officer Replacement Set

The office of vice president of the sophomore class has been vacated, according to Larry Jenkins, sophomore class president.

A new vice president will be chosen by remaining class officers through personal interviews which will be held Wednesday from 6-8 a.m., and Thursday, 3-4 p.m., in the East Council conference room, basement of the Student Service Center.

Applicants are asked to sign up for an interview time on the bulletin board, basement of the Student Service Center.

'Want' Ad Gets Deluge of Calls

by Vicki Soha
Daily Universe Writer

WANT A DATE? Put an ad in the Daily Universe.

The advice comes from the "charming voluptuous Daily Universe writer" who didn't especially need a date for the Banyan Ball, although the gallant men of the staff seemed to think she did.

The ad which ran two days, drew calls from 3 p.m. to 11:30 p.m. on Monday and from 12 noon to 12 p.m. on Tuesday.

At 9 p.m on Monday a fellow with an Irish accent from New Castle, England, called.

A call was even received from a University of Utah student. The possibilities are limitless when advertising is used.

THE PRIME questions of many students were: "Do you have all the reservations filled?" "What are 'your' qualifications?" and "What are your measurements?"

One applicant from Omaha, Neb., who had red hair (but no freckles) liked Elvis to dance to.

All classes were represented.

A freshman student from Miami, Fla., stated that "There's nobody can dance better than me. I'm very humble too." This hopeful was "handsome, very well built and personable."

ONE CANDIDATE from Nev. who was "very good looking" assured the poor girl that "you can't go wrong."

One bold fellow called with his fiancee sitting right beside him. He said he wanted to step out once in a while. Later he admitted that he was just publicity hungry.

Some mixed-up characters called the wrong number and applied for a Soc. 13 lab.

All interests were represented, from engineering to music theory and geography to counseling.

Many applicants had all the desirable qualifications for the "ideal prospect" type. They were returned missionaries, they had completed a tour in the service, and they were serious—all in one.

These fortunate people should make their appeal to Chi Sigma XXV, not to personal classified ads.

What young people are doing at General Electric

Young engineer pioneers new ways to use x-ray

A new x-ray inspection system which intensifies an x-ray image more than 10,000 times in brightness and transmits it to a conventional TV screen has been developed recently by General Electric. When perfected, it may enable medical specialists to perform "long-distance" diagnosis on patients in remote areas.

One of the principal men who developed x-ray television — called TVX for short — is Dr. John E. Jacobs, Manager of the Advanced Development Laboratory of General Electric's X-Ray Department in Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Jacobs' Work Is Important, Responsible

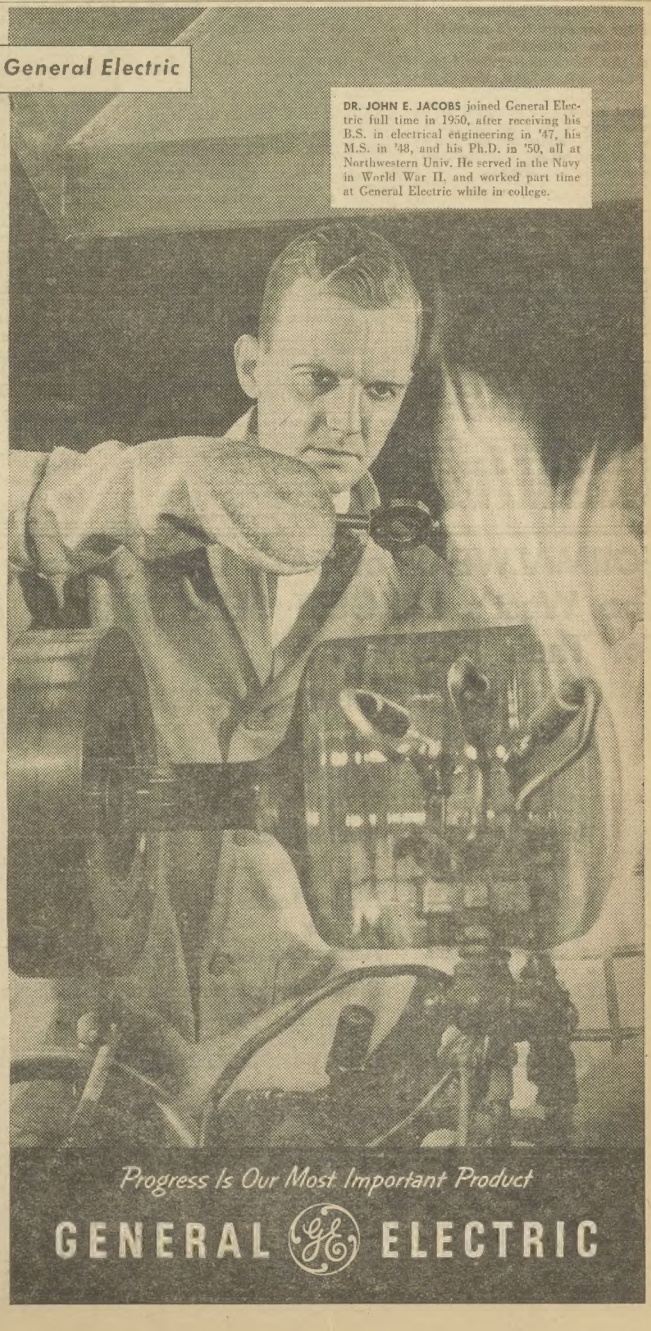
As an electronics specialist, Dr. Jacobs' work in the past has been devoted to the study of photoconductors—substances whose properties change under the influence of radiation — and the use of x-ray in industrial inspection. This in turn led to his development of the x-ray-sensitive camera tube used in TVX.

His present administrative duties with the Advanced Development Lab allow him more time for teaching others what he has learned. He now teaches the second-year graduate course at Northwestern in vacuum-tube networks, and has recently been named McKay Visiting Professor for 1957 by the University of California at Berkeley, where he will give a two-week series of lectures on photoconduction.

27,000 College Graduates at General Electric

Since his youth, when he was a licensed radio "ham," John Jacobs has been devoted to the study of electricity and electronics. Like each of our 27,000 college graduates, he is being given the chance to grow and realize his full potential. For General Electric has long believed this: when fresh young minds are given the freedom to develop, everybody benefits — the individual, the Company, and the country.

Educational Relations, General Electric Company, Schenectady 5, New York



DR. JOHN E. JACOBS joined General Electric full time in 1950, after receiving his B.S. in electrical engineering in '47, his M.S. in '48, and his Ph.D. in '50, all at Northwestern Univ. He served in the Navy in World War II, and worked part time at General Electric while in college.

Tired Cougars Turn Back Strong St. Mary's Club In Second Period

by Rich Hall

TIRED, AND suffering from a normal letdown following their 93-76 victory over Utah State Friday evening, Brigham Young University's league leading Cougars outlasted a strong St. Mary's team 69-65 Saturday night.

The game was undecided right down to the final buzzer, with BYU pulling ahead and the Gaels roaring right back to close the gap. The first period was one of the closest the Cats have played this season, with the lead changing hands 14 times before the Brighams could pull out to hold a 42-36 halftime lead.

WITH AS little as seven minutes left in the ball game the score was 57-55 in favor of the Cougars, but at that point the BYU squad began to pull away. As time ran out, the Gaels were battling back, but were unable to move into the lead.

Three men split the high scoring honors for the Cats, Lynn Rowe, Harry Anderson and Tom Steinke all pushing 16 points through the basket. Roy Thacker followed closely with 13, and John Benson racked up 8 to help the cause.

ROWE continued his top performance of the night before, turning a couple of early bad passes into lay-ups, and showing well on the boards and in his floor game. He was also hitting on a jump shot from the outside.

Anderson turned in one of his better performances as far as the scoring column goes. He coupled his drive-ins with a jump shot off the dribble which proved hard for the Gaels defenses to contain. His floor play was as good as ever, with the St. Mary's club finding his dribbling and maneuvering around the floor a little nerve-racking.

Cats Take Firmer Grasp On League Number One Spot

ors up to a 46-38 deficit at the half.

BRIGHAM Young's established custom of roaring back after the rest period proved the Farmer's downfall. Of their first 13 shots in the second canto, the Cats hit for a torrid percentage as they cashed in on seven of the attempts to rush into a commanding 69-56 lead.

At this point, Harold Theus, who demonstrated to unbelievers that a man can jump flat-footed and bang his head on the hoop, departed via the foul route. With Theus went the last glimmering of Aggie hopes as the springy Farmer had been half of the State rebounding game.

WITH TEN minutes remaining, Rowe hit a twister from the corner to rush the Cougars into a 75-58 lead. With the game wrapped up, Watts inserted his eager sophomores to freeze the ball, much to the consternation of the Aggies.
